

EXPANDING HORIZONS: NEW PERSPECTIVES, PARTNERSHIPS, AND POSSIBILITIES

HEALTH EDUCATORS' INSTITUTE 2023
REGISTRATION BROCHURE

OCTOBER 11-13, 2023
SALT FORK STATE PARK

Registration Information

The Ohio Society for Public Health Education (OSOPHE) invites you to attend its annual conference held October 11-13, 2023, at Salt Fork State Park Resort and Conference Center.

The 2023 theme is focused on developing skills and relationships that will enable participants to drive innovation and advance health outcomes in the communities they serve. The experts and content for this year's conference were thoughtfully selected to be applicable for a variety of disciplines including Health Educators, Prevention Professionals, Social Workers, Public Health Nurses, and more.

Conference Objectives

Participants of the 2023 Health Educators' Institute will:

- Develop knowledge, skills, and attitudes to incorporate public health theories and frameworks into population-based initiatives.
- Understand the importance and value of engaging leaders across sectors and disciplines to foster collective impact.
- Identify new tools to enhance community health planning, program implementation, and evaluation.
- Explore evidence-based or evidence-informed practices and frameworks to advance health equity and social justice across the lifespan.
- Expand networks to foster learning and resource sharing.
- Identify emerging issues impacting the health of Ohio's communities.
- Learn about applied research being conducted in Ohio.

Continuing Education

Ohio SOPHE is pleased to offer approximately 17 continuing education credits for the following disciplines:

- Certified Health Education Specialists (CHES) / Master Certified Health Education Specialists (# MCHES TBD).
- Ohio Certified Prevention Specialist Assistants/Specialists/Consultants.
- Ohio Social Work, Counselor, and Licensed Family and Marriage Therapist

FEATURED SESSIONS

Expanding Your Leadership Horizons – Chelsea Moxlow-Lantto, MPH, MCHES, PMP

Moxlow-Lantto will share how to capitalize on your existing strengths and address your weaknesses so that you're operating as your best, authentic self to effectively address interpersonal, team, and public health challenges. Whether you're an experienced leader with a title to match or an emerging public health professional looking to plan your career trajectory, this session will help you hone your leadership skills so that you are able to see the potential of the team, organization, and community that you are a part of – and help everyone expand their horizons.

Thriving with Boundaries: Embracing the Power of “No” – Anne Marie Hodges, EdD(c), MEd, LSSGB, MHFA, Chamberlain University

Explore the transformative potential of setting boundaries and the liberating power of saying “no”. Discover how embracing boundaries can improve mental well-being, develop stronger relationships, and heighten productivity. Overcome the barriers that hinder your ability to establish boundaries confidently and gracefully while learning from real-life examples of individuals who thrive by embracing the art of saying “no”. Join us and begin the journey to unlock your potential, nurture your self-worth, and lead a healthier, more fulfilling life. Embrace the liberating power of “no” and unlock the path to thriving with Boundaries.

Climate Change, Equity, and Public Health- Jaime Love, MEd. CHES, People’s Climate Innovation Center

Climate change poses current and increasing threats to human health. As the climate continues to warm, the risks to human health will grow, exacerbating existing health threats and creating new public health challenges. This session will examine how government, grassroots leaders, philanthropy and partner organizations can center equity and community engagement in their work to support capacity building and collaboration efforts that address complex climate challenges.

Power Literacy to Enhance Leadership, Influence, and Connection – Kat Koppet, koppet

Suspect you might be caught in a power struggle? Seeking influence at a higher level? Want to create a more collaborative and productive group climate? In this mindset shifting and skill-building session, we will expand “power literacy” to help you inspire trust, increase influence, minimize unhealthy conflict, and create environments where people feel engaged and respected. Participants will:

- Learn the non-verbal vocabulary of status, authority and power.
- Expand awareness of your habitual power behaviors and where they help and hurt your cause.
- Understand what positive power engagement looks like.
- Practice applying status fluency to communicate with confidence and in difficult situations.
